How to Install a New Indicator for MetaTrader (MT4/5)

You most likely received your indicator file in an email or you might have downloaded it. Either way, locate the file with the indicator name that ends in .ex4 and right-click it, then click on 'Copy'.

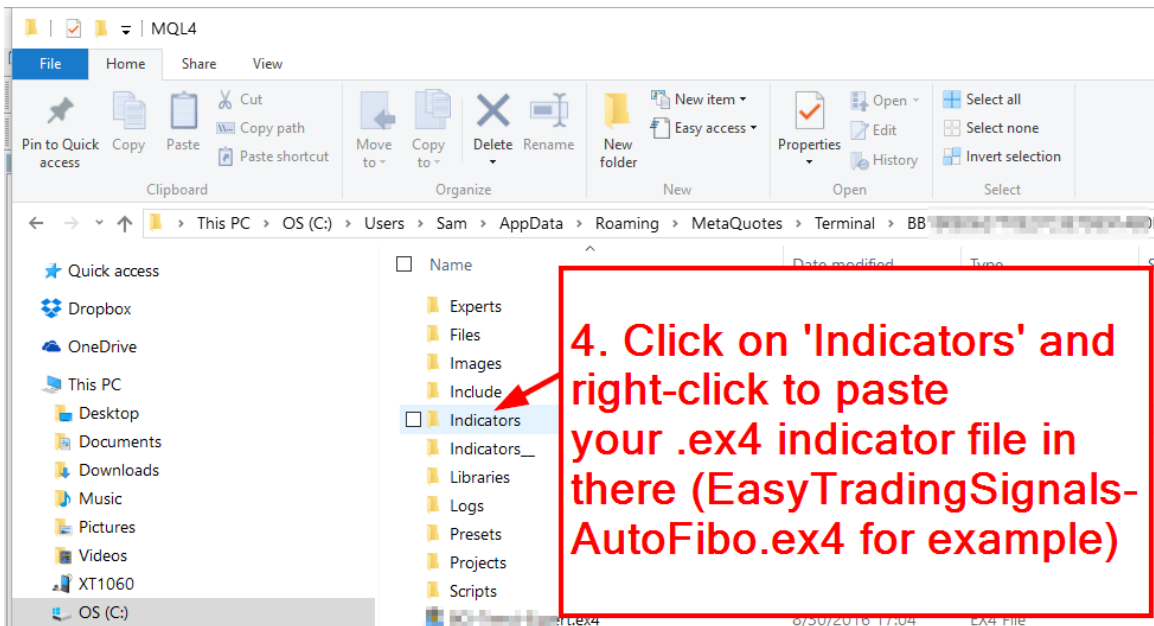

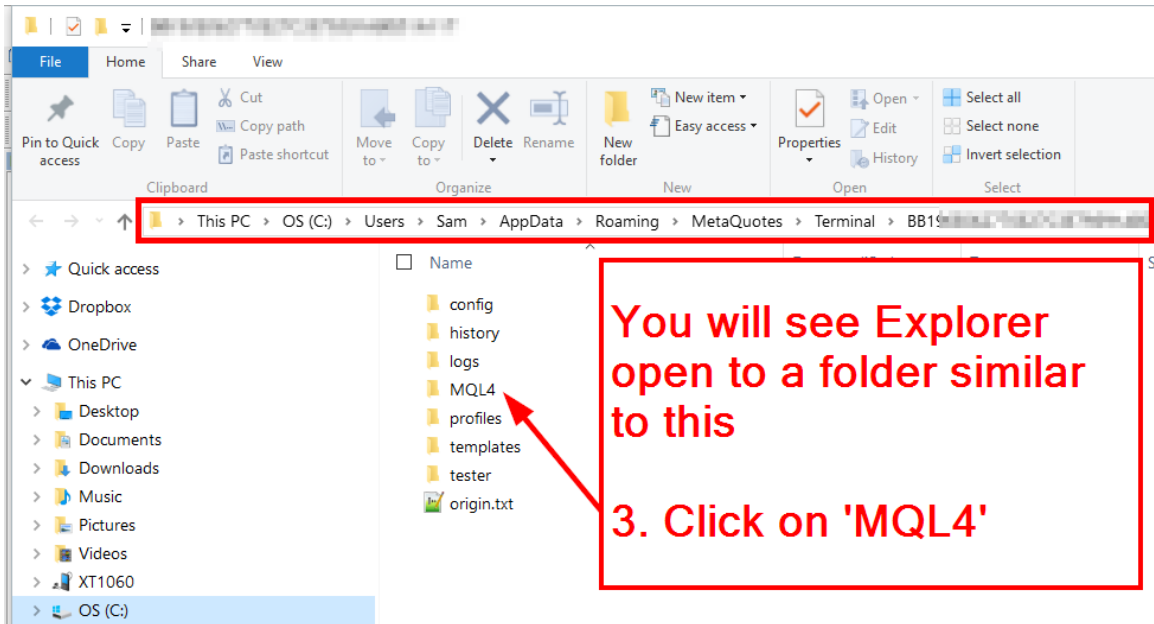

You will now be able to paste it where it needs to be, and the following steps will show you exactly what to do.

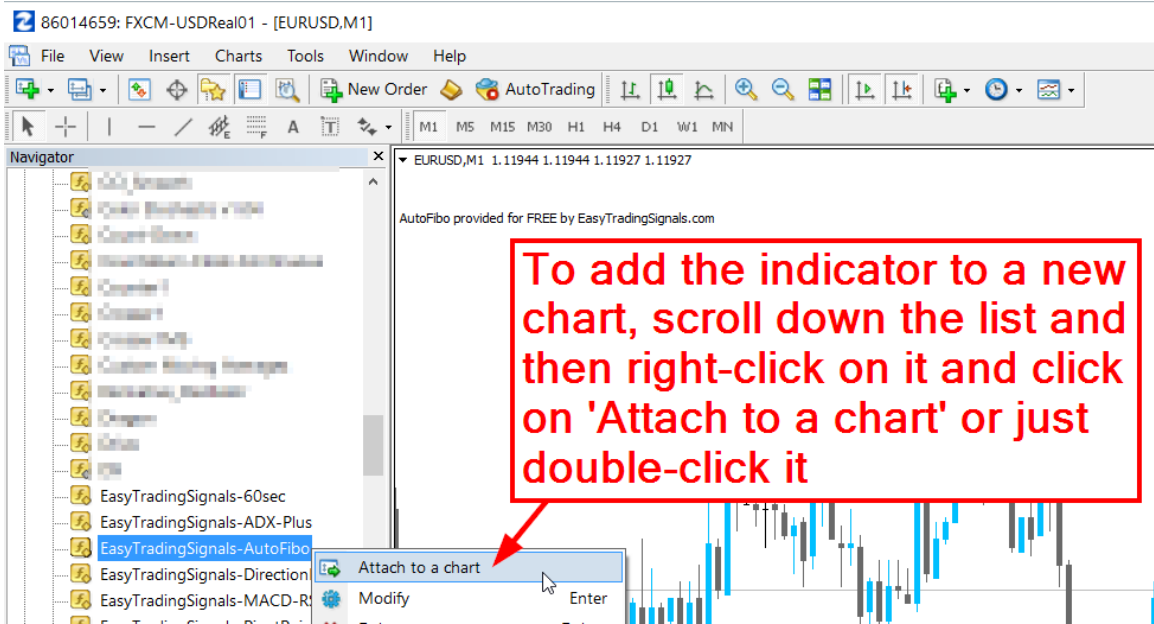

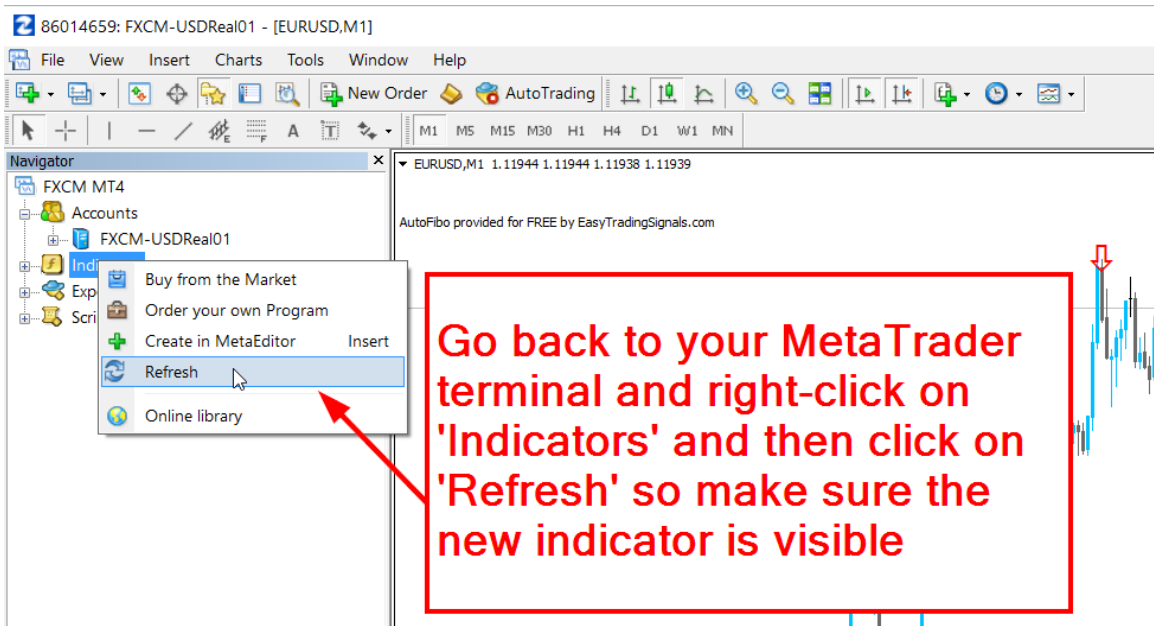

Start by launching your MetaTrader platform. If you don't have MetaTrader you can download and install it from FXCM here - <https://www.fxcm.com/platforms/metatrader-4/>

Feel free to use any other broker you wish if you know they can provide you with a free demo account.

The rest of the instructions are all shown in step-by-step screen captures. Just follow along with the steps and you will be done in a minute or two.

That's it! Your indicator is now ready to use! Follow the specific instructions for your indicator to set any configuration options if necessary.
